1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

3 (1) while disasters can strike anywhere within 4 the United States, certain areas historically have 5 been more susceptible or vulnerable to disasters;

6 (2) the Federal Government has assumed the 7 financial responsibility for much of the emergency
8 relief and reconstruction provided after disasters;

9 (3) the amount of Federal financial assistance
10 provided for disaster relief has been steadily increas-
11 ing over time and the annual disaster relief obliga-
12 tions of the Federal Emergency Management Agency
13 have increased more than tenfold over the past 10 14 years, from $320,000,000 in 1985 to 15 $4,300,000,000 in 1994;

16 (4) the costs of disaster assistance have been 17 spread disproportionately to all United States citi-
18 zens rather than to citizens of the areas that are 19 most directly affected; and

20 (5) an amendment to the Constitution of the 21 United States requiring a balanced Federal budget

1 would require major retrenchments in activities that
2 assist citizens of the United States in times of crises
3 and distress.

4 (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

5 (1) to reaffirm the individual States’ primary
6 responsibility for disaster relief;

7 (2) to restore the Federal Government’s role for 8 disaster relief to one of secondary support, provided
9 on a reimbursable basis, in unusual or special emer-
10 gency situations that require services best provided
11 by Federal agencies;

12 (3) to establish a private corporation to provide 13 risk-based insurance to the individual States to as-
14 sist the States in meeting their obligations in disas-15 ter relief; and

16 (4) to repeal existing Federal grant and loan
17 programs for disaster aid.

18 TITLE I—NATIONAL DISASTER
19 INSURANCE PROGRAM

20 SEC. 101. DISASTER INSURANCE PROGRAM.

21 The Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emer-
